Dubai, UAE; Bangalore, India—18 November 2025—In an effort to strengthen the UAE's cybersecurity landscape, Seed Group, a company of The Private Office of Sheikh Saeed bin Ahmed Al Maktoum, has forged a strategic relationship with CloudSEK. The collaboration aims to equip public- and private-sector organisations in the MENA region with AI-powered cyber threat intelligence capabilities.

Founded in 2015 by threat researcher-turned-entrepreneur Rahul Sasi, CloudSEK is a leading AI-powered cyber threat intelligence platform focused on predicting and preventing cyber threats. The company's proprietary AI engine identifies and prevents large-scale data breaches for major financial institutions well ahead of an actual attack. By analysing extensive threat data across the digital ecosystem, CloudSEK delivers intelligence for over 170 use cases, including brand monitoring, digital risk protection, attack surface management, and supply chain security.

The cyber threat intelligence cloud provider, CloudSEK, helps major companies worldwide identify and address cyber threats to mitigate risks to their operations, finances, and reputation. Through Seed Group's regional insight and network, CloudSEK will be able to serve the local companies' requirements better, thereby accelerating its regional expansion. For the Group, this partnership adds to its technology network and supports Dubai's vision for a secure, digitally advanced economy.

“CloudSEK’s advanced cyber threat intelligence solutions provide organisations with a robust layer of digital assurance,” remarked Hisham Al Gurg, CEO of Seed Group and The Private Office of Sheikh Saeed bin Ahmed Al Maktoum. “Its AI platform emulates human cognition to scan, analyse, and neutralise threats across the surface, deep, and dark web with speed and precision. This kind of pre-emptive monitoring will help bolster Dubai’s digital hub and open the door for broader regional cybersecurity advancements.”

“Partnering with Seed Group is a pivotal moment for CloudSEK as we expand into the GCC market. Being the first active Indian cybersecurity company to achieve this recognition underscores the trust and relevance of our technology as a top Cyber Threat Intelligence provider. Together with Seed Group, we are confident in enabling businesses and governments in the region to stay ahead of evolving cyber threats,” said Rahul Sasi, Founder and CEO of CloudSEK.

This strategic association is designed to empower CloudSEK to assist enterprises in navigating an intricate technology landscape. Its local positioning will help reinforce the UAE’s prominence as a secure and future-ready digital hub.
